

Accreditation Crisis or Hype?

We are hearing a lot about Accreditation in the market today. The latest is that pharmacies are struggling to get through the implementation with the resources they engaged for the process.

We are getting calls for help from some smart and committed pharmacies so our intel says there may be reason for concern.

We also know many pharmacies who knew little or nothing about the process and are either getting through it just fine or are already inspected and fully Accredited.

Whatever your situation is if you need help we can assist you with getting Accredited if you are fully committed to the process.

But you are running out of time. October 1 is fast approaching and you don't want to fail your inspection.

Call our office if you need emergency Accreditation assistance.
